The Motofix Group announced as finalist for Surrey Super Growth Awards 2017

The Motofix Group, one of the UK's leading independent regional vehicle accident repair groups, has been shortlisted in the Surrey Super Growth Awards 2017.

The Surrey Super Growth Awards 2017 celebrates a unique index of the fastest growing private businesses across the region, and commemorates their success.

The Motofix Group made the shortlist after recognition of its organic growth, rising from circa £1 million sales since its establishment in November 1997, to an estimated £27 million by 2018.

The Motofix Group acquired its first bodyshop in November 1997. The Motofix brand was created in 2003, and the leading regional vehicle accident repairer now has a network of eight specialist accident repair centres.

Motofix attributes its success to its focus on strong core values and a clear blueprint for the future. Embedded in its values is the fair treatment of customers and staff, whilst adhering to strong corporate governance rules. All Motofix employees are determined, customer focussed individuals, who apply a high level of attention to detail in all that they do.

Richard Tutt, Motofix's Chairman comments, "We are all proud that Motofix is being recognised for our forward- thinking business model whilst we continue to develop our business in line with customer expectations."

Liam Kearney, Motofix's CEO adds, "We are delighted to announce our place as a shortlisted finalist at this year's Surrey Super Growth Awards. Motofix is trading from strength-to-strength and it is an honour that we are being recognised alongside other fast growing, successful companies within the county."
